C. COMMENTS

C.1 PUBLIC COMMENTS FROM THE FLOOR

At this time, any person wishing to speak on any item not on the Agenda will be granted three minutes.

Diedre Proctor, Community member thanked the Board for the amazing services they have been providing to the community during the last year. She indicated that as a parent, the lunches and community outreach activities that have been provided, have not only given parents some sanity but have also been a heaven sent with the trials that everyone has had to endure. She said it has meant a lot to receive the lunches as it makes the crazy schedules that much easier to deal with. The drive-thru fun activities have really meant a lot to her family and the fun contests and Facebook events have helped. She is forever grateful for the extra efforts and going the extra mile for the children and families.

C.2 PUBLIC COMMENTS ON AGENDA ITEMS

Any person wishing to speak on any item on the Agenda will be granted three minutes.

Rachelle Yriarte, Parent, shared how the schools remaining closed has negatively impacted her kids. She indicated that her student who is a Principal Honors Student is now failing classes and her first grader is not understanding how anything works and is not getting the attention needed. She feels that at this point schools should reopen, and questioned why strip clubs and bars can reopen but not schools. She also indicated that she has a concern with forcing masks for children because her children have health reasons which prevent them from wearing a mask for their own health and safety.

Andre Balboa, Student Athlete at Eisenhower High School, shared his public statement as to the absence of sports and their potential return for the last quarter of the school year. He indicated that he understands the risks in bringing back sports during the current times and conditions, but strongly believes that the District has the capability to work this out and bring back sports for the sake of students for at least one final quarter. He is a senior this year and it pains him that the District did not act sooner but understands there are reasons why things were acted upon as they were. However, he fully supports bringing back sports and believes it is the best decision at this time.

Anita Schultz, District Parent, shared the following comment on behalf of her 2nd grader who will be a 3rd grader next year. She said she understands that unlike other school districts in San Bernardino County, Rialto USD will not be returning to school for the remainder of the school year. She has accepted this decision, primarily because she has no choice, but also because she knows that this will give the School District ample time to prepare to fully open schools for the 2021-2022 school year. She has also accepted her role as a homeschool mom over the past school year, because that is what she is willing to do for her children, but says that now it is up to the School District to step up and do what is best for the children in this community.

She indicated that when the decision was made at the end of January, it allowed Rialto USD six months to ensure that those teachers that wished to be vaccinated, to receive their vaccines. It also provided Rialto USD ample opportunity to prepare for the students to return to the classroom safely. She indicated that there should be no excuse come August not to open schools 100%. She is requesting that Rialto USD be fully transparent as to exactly what is being done month by month to ensure that our schools open in August 2021. She indicated that since the minutes of the last two board meetings (February and March) are not posted on the Rialto USD website yet, she has no idea what the plan of action is at this point, and as a parent and taxpayer, she deserves to know.

Gina Teig, Parent of three Rialto Unified School District students, one of which graduated in 2018, and is currently a college student, and two other sons who currently attend Carter High School. She said that all three of her boys are a product of many hard working teachers and staff from Trapp Elementary, Kolb Middle School, and Carter High School. She shared her thoughts regarding the possibility of reopening in-person instruction and reopening athletic programs. She is aware that there are many things that need to happen to make this possible but her heart breaks for all current seniors (Class of 2021). They have not stepped one foot on campus this year as proud seniors. Their only memory of their senior year is a lap top in front of their faces. She is hoping that the District find ways to encourage/honor the seniors for all their hard work the past 13 years of their academic life. She is hopeful that there is a plan to allow them, at the very minimum, a safe in-person graduation ceremony, and not a drive by.

She is also frustrated seeing so many other schools in neighboring communities that are allowing their student athletes on their fields, and questions why our student athletes are at home. She said that every day that passes, students are missing out on rebuilding what was lost physically, socially, and emotionally. She knows that there are guidelines in place ready to go and is requesting to allow our athletes to have a choice of being on the field.

Jose L. Balboa, District Parent, requested on his behalf and on behalf of other very concerned parents that the Board strongly consider the physical and mental impact that athletes/students have been suffering due the actual situation, and to please return to sports practice for this last part of the current school year. He explained that they are conscious that there are high and low contact sports, and requested that the Board not make a generalized decision, and if not all sports can be authorized that at least bring back the low contact sports.

Mr. Balboa requested that the Board consider a graduation ceremony for seniors. He suggested using the football field and having two to three ceremonies, while meeting the requirements of all COVID-19 CDC health requirements. He is hopeful that the District can make this happen for the sake of the mental and physical health of students/athletes. He recommends that students go back to sports practice even if there is no competition within the district, or with other districts' teams.

Virginia Hernandez, Parent of student at Boyd Elementary School who is in the first grade and in the Dual Immersion Program. She explained that although she would like for schools to reopen, she is concerned for her son's health and due to the increase in COVID cases, she would prefer distance learning. She feels it is the best option at this time until COVID cases have gone down significantly.

Ms. Hernandez asked what the next step would be if Rialto USD decided to re-open, and what protocol and measures would the district take? She questioned whether students would be provided with masks and when students would be able to return to school? Whether there is enough budget for disinfectant supplies for the schools and whether it will be mandatory for students to take the vaccine, and what would be the protocol? She also asked what would be an appropriate schedule for the return to school, and what hours and days students would attend. Will there be alterations between students? How will the classrooms will be set? How much of the CDC guidelines will the district follow?

Adriana Garcia, Parent of two students in the Rialto School District, a Senior at Carter High School and a sixth grader at Rialto Middle School, requested that the Board reverse its decision of January 27, 2021 to remain on Bridge Academy for the remainder of the year. She explained that given the much lower COVID-19 case counts compared to January and the State's push to open schools, she believes students should be allowed to return to school if it is best for the individual child. She understands that this may not be the best for every family or every child but feels it is for many, recognizing that the County is expecting to move to the less restrictive red tier next week if cases continue to hold is a sign of the progress the County has made.

She explained that in her case, her Senior is striving in Distance Learning and she would opt to keep him in Bridge Academy for the remainder of the year given the option. Her 6th grader daughter, however, who is an Honors student, is having difficulty online and would truly benefit from in-person instruction. She could risk not being recommended for Honors next year if her grades do not improve. Ms. Garcia believes the in-person class setting is where she learns best, and feels a hybrid model would be best so parents can make the choice that is best for their families and each individual student.

Karla Godoy, Parent of a preschooler and 8th grader that attend the school district, shared that she hopes the decision tonight is based on the best interest of students. She indicated that the past year the students have been the ones that get labeled as resilient but their needs have been put last. She said that neighboring districts are already on the path to reopening and hopes the students of Rialto do not get left behind. She feels that by opening before the next school year there will already be a path in place for them. She hopes the district makes the right decision to reopen safely, and puts students first.

Anna Valencia, Community Member and District Parent of three students in Rialto, one who was a senior at Carter High School last year who did not get to end her last year as expected. This year she has another senior who has not been able to step foot in a single classroom or a field. From being in Alpha Scholars, Varsity Volleyball and Varsity Softball, her year has been robbed and reduced to a laptop in her room with minimal communication from her high school administration or activities coordinator. She indicated that she finds it extremely unfair that surrounding school districts have not only started their athletic season but have also talked about or gone back to in-person classes. She firmly believes that it is imperative to these kids to go back to a routine that consists of their peers and teachers, and failure to do so may continue to cause more harm to their mental health. She has spoken to many parents who have said their kids have little to no morale with school anymore, including her own children, who have worked very hard to remain positive.

Ms. Valencia wonders why restaurants and other establishments can reopen with minimal to no issues, but schools cannot. She explains that teachers are being vaccinated and students (especially the older ones) know how to take better precautions and if other schools across the country can reopen safely, she has complete faith that Rialto USD can also make that happen for students. She asked that the Board reconsider their decision to not allow athletes to play and to let seniors finish out their year in a classroom, and if needed, extend the year.

Beatriz Meraz, Parent of three children attending Rialto USD, with two of them in the Dual Language Immersion Program, questioned what are the District's plans to send the students back, and if schools reopen will students have the option to go back in person or can they stay in bridge academy? And if so, how will the group be divided? She also asked if in the Dual Language Immersion Program there is only one teacher per grade, how will the District make sure all groups are being taught.

Ms. Meraz shared several other questions as follows: As for safety, what are the safety guidelines for the students going back? Will the classrooms, campus, and bathrooms be disinfected after every use? Will items to disinfect be provided or will students have to bring their own? How will the classrooms be set up? Will there only be a few students in the class, and will the desk be 6 feet apart, or will they be outdoors? Will lunchtime still be a thing, and if so how will it be arranged? Will COVID testing and temperatures checks be mandatory, and does the staff feel safe with our students returning in person? She indicated that she believes in the Board members, which is why she voted for them, and knows they would make the best decisions for the community and the students. She understand some parents wish to go back in person, but she wishes her children to finish the year on Bridge Academy until all the safety guidelines are planned out and things are better.

C.3 COMMENTS FROM ASSOCIATION EXECUTIVE BOARD MEMBERS

Rialto Education Association (REA), California School Employees Association (CSEA), Communications Workers of America (CWA), Rialto School Managers Association (RSMA).

Lisa Lindberg, Rialto Education Association President, requested from the Board, that as they engage in discussions regarding reopening schools for in-person instruction, she urges them to consider the following:

- The Rialto community is still in the purple tier, which at one time, before politics became such a huge influence, was considered an unsafe tier for reopening schools for in-person instruction.
- The Rialto community has suffered over 3000 child cases of COVID-19. This is without any sort of in-person instruction.
- The hybrid model is not a normal return to school. Students would still be home for distance learning on Mondays and only attend school for half days the rest of the week in order to maintain safety protocols. She does not believe our parents are aware of this schedule.
- Students will undoubtedly have schedule changes and a change in their teacher. Teachers cannot teach distance learning and in-person at the same time. Therefore, there will be a schedule change and a teacher change at this point late in the school year; since many parents will want to stay in distance learning and others may want to have their child at the school site. Is this upheaval what we really want?
- A good portion of our teachers will not be able to return due to health issues and safety concerns. Many will take leave as they are able and we will need substitute teachers to take their place. We already have a shortage of substitutes and we will be competing with other districts to secure them.
- Spring Break starts tomorrow. When we return, there will be 53 days left of instruction. Teachers and their students have a routine. They are overwhelmingly comfortable with instruction and learning at this late point in the school year.

Ms. Lindberg again urged the Board to give thoughtful consideration to these points. She indicated that we are in the home stretch and highly discouraged a return to the school sites which will disrupt instruction, the routines, and the gains teachers and students have made this school year.
